

LIFELONG LEARNING:
CALLING ALL TREKKIES
WEDNESDAYS MAY 17 AND MAY 24
7:00 PM

If you're a Star Trek fan (or even if you're not), Lifelong Learning has a program for you!

What do you think of when you hear the phrase "Jewish values"? Many things may come to mind, but is Star Trek one of them?

On two consecutive Wednesdays, May 17th & May 24th, Daniel Sachs will present Star Trek: Jewish Values in Space. Mr. Sachs has been a religious school teacher for 22 years. He is a member of Agudas Achim, although his own religious education began at Beth El. In his day-to-day life he's an attorney, but he developed the program on Jewish values found in Star Trek as his way to commemorate the 50th anniversary of this classic TV series.

Star Trek fans – and even those who aren't -- certainly won't want to miss these programs, as they promise to be a fun, different & enjoyable learning experience for everyone. Please join us from 7 - 8 PM on May 17th (Part 1) and May 24th (Part 2) for this intriguing event.
